

It's your world.

Taylor Bunge

Class 2019

Psychology Major,
Neuroscience Concentration

White Oak Manor

Continuing Care Facility with approximately 60 Residents
There are 6-8 Older Adult Participants Each Week and 3-5 Wofford Student Volunteers Each Week

*I WRITE TO EASE MY MIND
THOUGHTS TO UNWIND
WHAT - MY SENSES
LET WHEN I TRY TO REMEMBER*

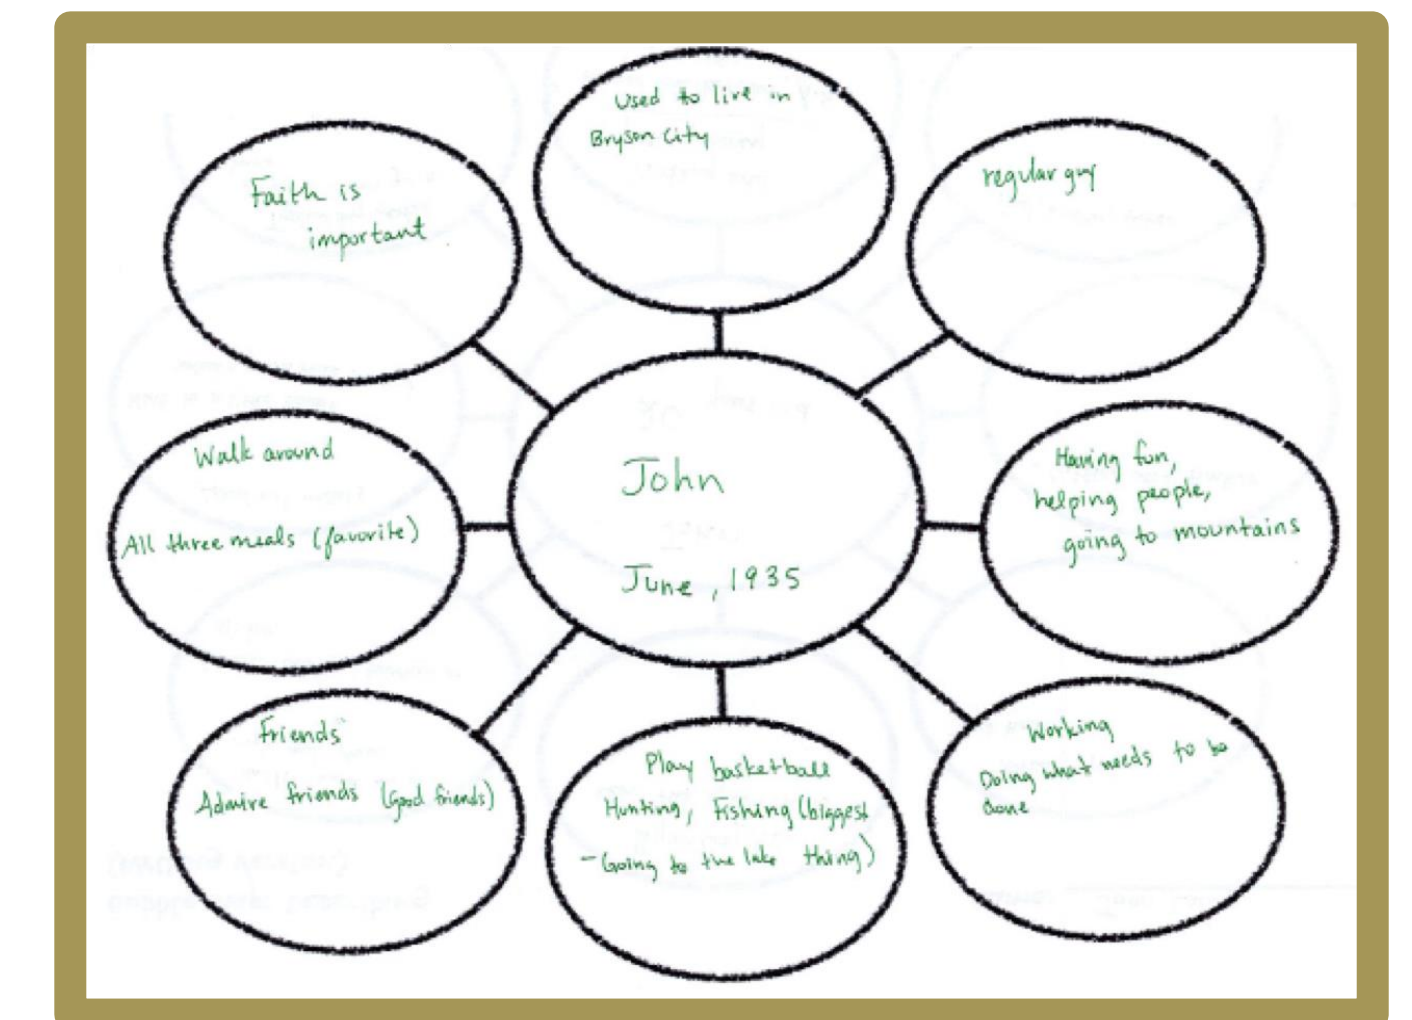

IntergenerationalConnections
INTERACTIONS TO IMPROVE LIVES

Right: "Thanksgiving" Participant wrote what it means to be thankful.

*Thanks for the Freedom.
to do something for other people.
You feel happy and thankful*

Examples of Workshops Topics:
"Stories of Spartanburg"
"All about Me: Now & Back Then"
"Exotic Food from Around the World"
"World Travelers & Name that Landmark"
"Animal Kingdom: from Pets to Exotic Animals"

Above: "Christmas workshop" Participants drew self portrait
using a gingerbread man

Right: "Home Sweet Home"
Participants wrote and drew what home means to them

Fall Looks Like: *Beautiful color of leaves orange
Gold Turns Change of season
Coming in as the leaves are changing, falling of leaves on ground turn to brown, different colors of ground.*

Above: "Five Senses of Fall" Participants recalled their favorite seasonal changes

Right: "Valentines Day Workshop"
Participants wrote compliments to themselves and others in the group to share the love

